ALL HEARINGS OPEN DURING CONFERENCE
Washington, September 26.—“All America” must co-operate in solving the unemployment problem, said Residuals Commissioner...

"A crystallization of much valuable public thought on this matter would have lasting value in the education of our people," said Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

So the conference is to be open to the public that "all America" may be in on its deliberations and know what it is to do. Public hearings will be held on all subjects under discussion, the first,

Washington, September 26.—President Harding has spoken the word and Secretary Hoover has taken hold of the machinery for starting one of the most important domestic readjustment efforts of the administration—providing work for the nation's idle and a breath of optimism for the nation's business.

Both of these leaders, in addresses to the first session of the unemployment conference here Monday, bespoke confidence in the outcome and a demand for practicable measures. Both declared there must be no draft upon the public treasury. The "Dole" system, practiced in European countries to relieve the workless, Hoover denounced as the "most vicious" in the world.

The initial words having been spoken and the organization of the conference having been completed with Hoover as chairman, it is now possible to set forth the measures for relief contemplated by the administration and to be effected, if possible, by the group of distinguished Americans here, called for this important duty from all walks of Program Planned.

Briefly, here is the program:
1—Hold open hearings to establish the exact unemployment—as to numbers, classes and locations affected. Labor leaders and the department of labor have declared there are 6,000,000 idle in the country today. Independent statistics compiled by the department of commerce and other business agencies, declare there are less than 3,500,000 without work. Reporting of the higher unemployment ment figures has slowed down buying, manufacturing and has had a detrimental influence on business all down the line, delegates report. So it was deemed advisable at the outset to correct this misapprehension and immediately strike a shaft of optimism into the present business

2—Employment bureaus are to recommend for establishment in all leading cities where unemployment is high. The work of these bureaus will involve the registration by municipalities of all men who desire work and can't find it. Only tives, after this registration is completed and classified, will be urged to co-operate with municipal and state departments to put as many "to work as possible on improvement, contemplated new projects, and seek the co-operation of local industries and others in adding to their employment.

4.—To obtain added employment in industries, manufacturers will be urged to adopt emergency measures such as will shorten the work day a given percent for those now employed, in order to permit of a corresponding percentage of increase in the number of employees. This would entail perhaps a reduction of wages, corresponding to the reduced hours, for those now employed, but it would provide against suffering for thousands who are out of work.

These four measures are the ones upon which the conference leaders are depending for the most immediate results. All require co-operation among civic and state authorities, merchants, manufacturers and labor. Their success, once they are launched in definite form, will depend altogether upon the spirit with which communities get behind the ideas. It is pointed out.

Emergency Work.
In addition the conference will consider how to effect emergency transportation work, increased construction, emergency mining measures and emergency shipping measures.

Behind these emergency measures are broader plans for more permanent remedies which will be considered during the conference. These will take the conference into the field of freight rate adjustments, modification of building trade regulations to encourage home building and adjustment of admittedly bad conditions in the mining industry, which three elements are regarded by authorities here as the basic obstacles in the path of a business revival.

"Until business is better," said James Couzens, millionaire mayor of Detroit, and one of the conference delegates, there can be no general relief from the unemployment situation. If readjustments can be worked out satisfactorily, next spring will see business and industry in a healthy condition.

COUZENS DEFENDS "DOLE" SYSTEM

Washington, September 26.—James Couzens, millionaire mayor of Detroit, who inaugurated a virtual "Dole" system to take care of Detroit's workless men and women, heard this system denounced at the opening session of the unemployment conference here Monday.

Both President Harding and Secretary Hoover declared such relief should be avoided at all costs. Nevertheless, Couzens, in an interview later defended it in that it was working satisfactorily.

"In Detroit we are successfully meeting the unemployment situation," Couzens said. "We have no bread lines. We have a relief bureau which has spent $1,500,000 during the last ten months helping some 15,000 families, representing approximately 100,000 persons. This money has been used to buy clothing, food, shoes and to pay rent."

Some of those getting help are given work on various municipal enterprises. The return to the treasury from this work is small.

The money is taken from the treasury and is derived from a direct tax on the people. It represents an amount of work, too, amounting to $100,000,000 public improvements program as much as we can.

"There is really no distress in Detroit—and it is due to our system of relief."

LEGION TO AID JOBLESS VETERANS

New York, September 26.—Following a series of conferences on the unemployment situation and a brief survey of conditions in the greater cities of the United States, the American Legion has decided to take immediate steps to bring emergency relief to the half million veterans of the world war now unemployed.

National Commander John G. Emery announced Monday that he had called a conference at Indianapolis on September 30, at which will be present, William McCauley of Chicago; Roy Hoffman, of Oklahoma; and William Wickham, of New York, and national officers and department heads will be present.

The conference, said the commander, "will in no way interfere with the conference called by President Harding, at which the American Legion is represented by two members, Bascom Little, of Cleveland, and Arthur Woods, of New York. We hope to be of service to the federal government in its efforts to relieve the situation and will strive to tie our efforts to those of the government so there may be no duplication of effort."

ASKS PUBLICITY ON PROFITEERING TO HELP JOBLESS

Washington, September 26.—Urban Ledoux took his job-for-the-jobless campaign to the white house today and asked President Harding to make public, as a first step towards social rehabilitation, the names of all those who had doubled their wealth by profiteering during the war.

As an alternative Ledoux proposed that the president issue a public appeal that those who were profiteers should give 50 per cent of their wealth to a governmental fund for relief of the unemployed. In his suggestions, he said, were received with marked interest by the president, although no indication was given whether they would be adopted for the present.

over. Operation expenses of the departments were not reduced.

Appeals in behalf of the market were made by Mayor Key, Mrs. B. M. Boykin, president of the Atlanta Woman's club, and Mrs. Norman Sharp, chairman of the market committee of that organization. A delegation of members of the club accompanied the leaders to the meeting.

The committee adopted a motion offered by Councilman J. R. Nutting binding the women to consult council and obtain that body's approval of a lot to be purchased as a market site before the market appropriation will become available.

Dr. K. G. Matheson, president of Tech, described to the committee the pressing needs of the Atlanta Institution. He stated that the school was unable to meet past due bills of nearly $30,000 and help is imperative. The council had already given $44,000 to Tech this year and the $12,000 voted by the committee Monday makes a total appropriation of $56,000, which is $31,000 more than the city gave Tech last year.

Gordon Opens Fight.
Request of the park board for $15,000 with which to make progress on the new cyclorama building declared necessary before the structure is opened to the public, was fought by Councilman Robert A. Gordon, who would not consent to an appropriation exceeding $3,000. He won his point and the building will have to wait until next year to be finished, it now appears.

The following special appropriations were inserted in the sheet: Market building, $20,000; Tech, $12,000; cyclorama, $3,000; two social workers at Grady hospital, until January 1, 1922; repairs on X-ray machine at Grady, $1,000; outfall sewer on McDonald road, $2,300; storm water sewer on Barksdale drive, $1,000; installation of telephone exchange at the police station, $250; to have Edgewood avenue bridge $250; to employ two additional mechanics at the city garage, $480; adjusting ordinary room, $5,500, which is $500 for each ward. The following appropriations were cut out: Adjusting sewers on Spring street, $5,000; repairing intercepting sewers, $3,132; McDaniel street trunk sewer, $2,225; trunk sewer from English Avenue school and Fox street to Ashby street, $4,420; regrounding Cain street, $10,000; cutting back the buildings at 22 and 23 Peachtree street, $5,000; paying South Pryor street, from Ridge Avenue to the city limits, $2,000; asphalt coating on wood block pavements to prevent water seepage, $4,500; new boilers at the waterworks station, $13,495.

federal agents on the ground that their shipment was being attempted without compliance with maritime regulations requiring that a manifest be obtained for all exports. The next day the Hoboken police attempted to take the arms away from federal agents on a search and seizure warrant obtained by a man giving the name of "Frank Williams," who claimed they had been stolen from him June 11. He did not explain how they happened to be on board a vessel, or what use he was going to make of them.

Presence of the arms on board the ship was not known to its owner, the United States shipping board, or to its managing operators until they were informed of the discovery by federal investigators. The East-side was loaded for export at New York when the seizure took place. At the time it was reported that the arms, swathed in burlap bags and labelled "engine room supplies," were taken to ship's side at night by launches and smuggled aboard.

By agreement of the Hoboken police and the customs authorities, who made the seizure, the arms were later taken to a Manhattan keeps the audience waiting and warehouses where they were to remain until there was a judicial determination of their ownership.

"I saw the bomb coming my way," said one of them in the hospital, "and tried to get away, but it was no use. The bomb skidded over my head and exploded back of me."

Two bomb explosions occurred in districts two miles apart, one of them smattering every window in the street.

While this rioting was in progress, London was waiting for word from the government as to its attitude on the coming note to De Valera. The reply is expected to go forward to the Irish leader on Wednesday. Most of the cabinet ministers to whom Lloyd-George submitted the draft of the note have submitted their replies to the premier at Gairloch.

Wait on Opinions.

As soon as all opinions have been received by Lloyd-George, one of two courses will be followed. If there is pronounced dissension, the reply will be delayed and a second cabinet meeting may possibly be held to take immediate steps to bring emergency relief to the half million veterans of the world war now unemployed.

The latter course is deemed more probable. If the note goes forward in its present form, it will follow the previously outlined in United Nations dispatches, not demanding preliminary renunciation of the principle of Irish sovereignty, but emphasizing that Sinn Fein must not expect arbitration as a result of the conference, thus placing the onus of rejection on the Sinn Fein side.

On October 18, the premier hopes to be able to tell the commons that the conference will take place.

BLACKMAIL PLOT AGAINST ARBUCKLE

Angela with Miss Rappe and Miss Delmont he intended to be gone one day.

Adjoining Rooms.

"At the Palace hotel here did you occupy a room adjoining the ladies?" he was asked.

"Yes," he answered.

"Did anyone open up the door between your room and theirs?"

"No," was the reply.

He testified he had known Mrs. Delmont, complaining witness, four years, and Miss Rappe five years. He had introduced the two.

"Did you always call Mrs. Delmont 'Maudie'?"

"I suppose I did," answered Semmacker.

"Don't you know the door between your room and theirs was open day and night?" suddenly broke in the questioner.

He admitted that it was.

"Who opened it?"

"I don't know," Semmacker answered.

Story of Clothing.
Semmacker denied he had discussed the disposition of Miss Rappe's clothing with Mrs. Delmont after she found them in Arbuckle's room. He repeated previous testimony that he took her underwear to Los Angeles with him.

He testified that external violence was probably the cause of the young actresses' death. He told of finding her writhing in pain in Arbuckle's apartment; he said there was little trace of alcoholism in her agony and that he made several calls to administer to her in her misery the night after the Arbuckle "gin led weeping away."

After waiting three hours outside the courtroom Miss Scott happened to be looking the other way which Arbuckle was led back to his prison cell.

Asked by the police if she knew Arbuckle and wanted to see him, she cried:

"I've only seen him on the screen and I wanted to see what he looks like in real life."

She was led weeping from the hall of justice.

Court adjourned until 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning after Semmacker had finished his testimony.

Following adjournment the district attorney said that "if Mr. Dominguez can show evidence of blackmail in this case all the facilities of the court will be turned toward prosecuting it."

goes with him "first to joke her about her being intoxicated, and second to wipe off the car with it."

Charges that Arbuckle had tortured Miss Rappe with a piece of ice might, Semmacker said, be mistaken as to the exact words of his quotation of Arbuckle in regard to the incident.

Semmacker declared as far as he knew Arbuckle invited no guests to his Labor day party.

"You saw Miss Rappe carrying a gold-mesh purse?" came the next of the rapidly shifting questions?

"Yes, and I'd like to know where it is," he answered.

"So would I," dramatically shouted Dominguez, defense attorney.

Semmacker was closely questioned about the purse and admitted taking it from Arbuckle's room and giving it to Miss Rappe.

The questioning turned to Arbuckle's party.

"Was 'it up'?"

"All the women were in street attire except Mrs. Delmont. She was in yellow pajamas. Now how was she with reference to sobriety?"

"She was 'it up,'" Semmacker said.

Before Semmacker took the stand Dr. Arthur Beardslee, first physician to attend Miss Rappe, was questioned closely as to the technique of his treatment of her. He testified that external violence was probably the cause of the young actresses' death. He told of finding her writhing in pain in Arbuckle's apartment; he said there was little trace of alcoholism in her agony and that he made several calls to administer to her in her misery the night after the Arbuckle "gin

DEMOCRATS MEET ON PACTS TODAY

Washington, September 26.—All democratic senators were called today to meet in conference tomorrow to consider minority action with respect to the peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary.

Senator Underwood, of Alabama, democratic leader, issued the call for the conference after consultation with Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, ranking democratic member of the foreign relations committee.

Senator Hitchcock, who returned here today and who was not present when the treaties were reported by the committee last week, expressed himself as favoring ratification. Senator Underwood also was said to be a supporter of the treaties. Preliminary surveys are reported as showing only a comparatively small number of democratic senators opposed to the treaties, and tomorrow's conference is expected to reveal almost the exact number. Republican leaders said they expected to lose only two or three republican votes and make Norfolk, Va., September 26.—A 2,000-pound bomb ended the career of the old battleship Alabama at 12:15 today. A Martin bomber flying over the old warship anchored off Tangier Island in Chesapeake bay, tore her mast off, destroyed superstructure and turned her over on her side in shallow water. Six other planes almost simultaneously rained 1,000 and 2,000-pound bombs on the hulk as she went down. Four hit the vessel as she tumbled over, and the remainder landed in the water within 20 to 30 feet.

SIX UNION OFFICIALS INDICTED IN CHICAGO

Chicago, September 26.—Six officials of union organizations were indicted today by a special building

Put into the Bank the Money you have put in the Fire

THIS is a characteristic of rich men:

A rich man never hesitates to throw away old equipment if he can save money by doing so.

One of the richest bankers in the United States took out the ten-year old boiler from his cellar this Summer and installed a new heating plant made by this Company. Why? Because by doing so he can save about one-third of what he has been spending for coal.

Yet families of modest means go on heating their homes with old furnaces or stoves and suppose they are being economical.

It is false economy.

You can put into the bank every winter one-third of what you are now putting into the fire.

You can—with ARCOLA.

ARCOLA is the wonderful new heating invention for small homes, with or without basements, that takes the place of a furnace or stoves. By its one fire, connected with American Radiators, it fills every room with healthful hot-water warmth and provides an abundance of hot water for washing and bathing besides. It burns any kind of fuel.

One-third of your fuel is worth saving. See ARCOLA today.

The red and yellow card at the right is the sign of a Heating or Sanitary Engineer (formerly called Steamfitter or Plumber) who can show you ARCOLA. Look for it in his window.

It will pay you to consult him twice a year as you do your Doctor or Dentist. To have him examine and repair your heating and plumbing costs little. It may save you a very great deal.

BATTLESHIP TARGET IS VICTIM OF BOMBS

Norfolk, Va., September 26.—A 2,000-pound bomb ended the career of the old battleship Alabama at 12:15 today. A Martin bomber flying over the old warship anchored off Tangier Island in Chesapeake bay, tore her mast off, destroyed superstructure and turned her over on her side in shallow water. Six other planes almost simultaneously rained 1,000 and 2,000-pound bombs on the hulk as she went down. Four hit the vessel as she tumbled over, and the remainder landed in the water within 20 to 30 feet.

SOVIET MAKES DENIAL OF BRITISH CHARGES

London, September 26.—Replying to Lord Curzon's note in which the British foreign minister accused the Soviet government of failing to live up to the terms of the Anglo-Russian trade agreement, and of continuing propaganda in India and Persia, the Moscow government denies all charges.

The note declares that further inquiries are being made in order to refute the statements of the British note in detail, and cites a few instances already under the observation of the Soviet, to show that "many of these statements will not bear even the most superficial examination."

The Soviet says that there is no doubt that Lord Curzon and the foreign office are the "victims of false rumors spread by Russian white guards, and others of French origin."

In conclusion, the Soviet expresses an earnest desire for friendly relations with the British government.

FIREMAN KILLED, FATHER SUES CITY AND REVEALS FACTS

Savannah, Ga., September 26.—(Special.)—With plenty of money in the treasury, with no question as to abundance to meet all obligations, and with no civil suits against it for debt, the "Murray M. Stewart" a monster aerial truck of the Savannah fire department and a great tractor of the same department were levied upon today under an attachment based on a $20,000 damage suit.

A. S. Christiansen, a young fireman who had been on the force a few days only, fell recently from the truck and was killed. His father, claiming the son to have been the means of support, is preparing a suit for $20,000 damages.

Preparation for suit revealed the fact, it is said, that the fire fighting equipment upon which the young fireman is said to have lost his life, is not the property of the city but the title to it is in the LaFrance Fire Engine company and is leased by the city. The deputy sheriff has made J. H. Monroe, fire chief, custodian for the property, then technically levied upon pending the suit. The plaintiff has put up bond of $20,000.

BODIES OF HANGED MEN ARE BURIED IN GEORGIA CITIES

Brunswick, Ga., September 26.—(Special.)—The remains of Jacob B. Martin, who was hanged in Crestview, Fla., for murder of John P. Tuggle, of that county, were laid to rest in Brunswick today, while the body of Putnam P. Powell, also executed at the same time for the same crime, was buried yesterday at the old family home in Wayne county. Martin was a resident of Brunswick, while Powell lived at Everett City, 20 miles from Brunswick.

PORTUGAL TO ATTEND CONFERENCE ON ARMS

Washington, September 26.—Portugal's request for representation in the conference on armaments and Far Eastern affairs will be granted, it is indicated.

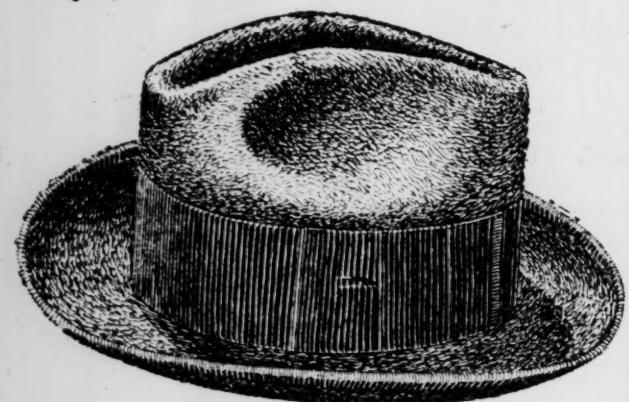

The request was made through Viscount D'Almeida, Portuguese minister, Monday. Portugal's interests in the east were pointed out.

The United States will be willing to accord Portugal the same privileges as those accorded to Belgium and Holland, it is understood. Discussion with other powers would precede the extension of an invitation, as in the case of Belgium and Holland. Formal replies have not yet been received from all invited powers relative to the participation of these nations.

Rev. Charles Goodell To Deliver Sermon Series in Atlanta

Rev. Charles L. Goodell, D. D., one of the foremost preachers in the United States, will deliver a series of sermons in Atlanta from October 12 to 23 at the Wesley Memorial church, according to an announcement Monday afternoon by Rev. B. P. Fraser, pastor. Rev. Mr. Goodell, who is secretary of the federal council of the commission on evangelism, first attracted public attention when he became pastor of the Calvary Methodist church, New York city, about 15 years ago. In twenty months he made a gain over all losses of more than a thousand church members, and on one occasion received into his church 364 persons, which is said to be the largest number ever received at one time into any Protestant church.

REV. CHARLES GOODELL

He also has held pastorates in Boston and Brooklyn, has travelled extensively in Europe and the Orient, and is an author whose books have a wide sale. The lectures which he will give here in October will be in the main on Bible study. A choir of 100 voices will be conducted by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Boatman. The lectures will be given each day at 11 o'clock in the morning and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

ARE SELECTING JURY FOR SOUTHARD TRIAL

Twin Falls, Ida., September 26.—Two jurors have been tentatively accepted by the prosecution in the case of Mrs. Lydia Southard, alleged "female bluebeard," charged with the murder of her fourth husband, Edward Meyer.

The defense will not have a chance to challenge any of the jurors when his case was called in circuit court for trial. Dr. Belcher is charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Turner, aged 21, of this city, whose body was found late last month in Booker creek near here.

The coroner's jury held that death resulted from a criminal operation. Judge C. O. Andrews of Orlando, assigned by Governor Hardee to try the case because of the disqualifications of Judge M. A. McMullen, who is distantly related to both Dr. Belcher and Miss Turner, ordered the sheriff to summon a venire of 35 men for the jury and recessed court until 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY IN DEATH OF GIRL

Clearwater, Fla., September 26.—Dr. I. J. Belcher, of Tarpon Springs, entered a plea of not guilty today when his case was called in circuit court for trial. Dr. Belcher is charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Turner, aged 21, of this city, whose body was found late last month in Booker creek near here.

CRIPPLED HIGHWAYMEN GET $20 OFF VICTIM

Washington, September 26.—The police today are looking for three highwaymen, cripples, two on crutches and the other hobbling on a cane, who last night held up Thomas Payne of this city and robbed him of $29, according to a police complaint. The police, Payne told the police he was sitting in his automobile, accompanied by a young woman, on a road about 100 yards from the Walter Reed army hospital when, at pistol point he was commanded to leave the machine by three men who hobbled across the road with him, two on crutches and the other on a cane, appropriating the $29 and then, ordering him back to the car, threatened to shoot unless he drove away slowly. He described all three as hatless and careless.

Mangrem-Cunningham Wedding October 5.

The marriage of Miss Mary Mangrem, of Columbia, Tenn., and William Everhart Cunningham, of this city, will take place Wednesday evening, October 5, at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride-elect's parents, near Columbia, Tenn. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. J. H. Wilmer, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, which will precede the ceremony. A musical program of unusual interest, which will be given by Mrs. C. A. Polgey, vocalist; Miss Mary Ashton, pianist; and Edward Turner, violinist.

Miss Mangrem has chosen for her bridegroom, Mr. James Webb Riddle, of Columbia, Tenn., and Miss Adele Cunningham, of Atlanta, sister of the groom, as her bridesmaids. Sara Pillow Cowie and Lady Love Le Sueur will carry the ribbons, while little Randle Le Sueur will serve as ring bearer.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father, Frank Rice, of Chattanooga, who will serve as the groom's best man. The wedding register will be kept by Miss Lemyra Harlan.

Miss Mangrem has been entertained at a series of elaborate affairs and among those being planned for this week are: Today, Miss Ellen Douglas Everett will be hostess of a bridge party for Miss Mangrem and Mrs. Ned Carmack. Thursday, September 29, Mrs. James Riddle will entertain with a bridge party for Miss Mangrem and Mrs. Ned Carmack. Friday, September 30, Mrs. Riddle will entertain with a bridge party to compliment Miss Mangrem. Saturday, October 1, the bride-elect will be the honoree of a bridge luncheon given by her aunt, Mrs. Allan B. Harlan, at her country home "Oakwood Farm." The members of the bride party will be entertained with a buffet supper after the rehearsal Tuesday evening, October 4, by the bride's father, Mr. and Mrs. Partee Harlan. Mr. Cunningham and his bride will make their home in Atlanta, where Mr. Cunningham is prominently identified in the business world, being branch manager for the Fisk Rubber company.

Bankhead Highway Head Confers With Mrs. Thornton.

Colonel Bennehan Cameron, of Raleigh, president of the Bankhead Highway association, spent Sunday in the city, coming to confer with Mrs. Albert Thornton, Sr., president of the women's commission, Bankhead highway, concerning the work of the women's department. Colonel Cameron professed himself delighted with the advance of the organization work under Mrs. Thornton's guidance, and the excellent publicity being given the highway project through the program of the women's commission. The women's plans for beautifying this great countrywide boulevard and making it a record in marble and bronze and memorial groves of the history, achievements and personages of the south, said Colonel Cameron, are drawing an attention to the progress and value of the highway, which even the recognition it has won as a great artery of commerce and military road had scarcely accomplished. The trip to Mexico, which is the brain of the highway project, the Mexican government by members of the Bankhead association has been postponed from November, said

Fine Program Is Presented At Woman's Club Meeting

A large and appreciative audience greeted the speakers and artists appearing on the program of the Atlanta Woman's club at its regular meeting Monday afternoon. The program was a fine one, the opening of the meeting with a song dedicated to the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs entitled "Georgia," the words of which were written by Mrs. A. B. Christopher and the music by Mrs. George Wight. Mrs. Martha Clark, an artist of ability, president of the club, expressed the hope that this would be the song of the club at the meeting in Savannah for the club song.

Market Appropriation Secured.

The amount of $12,500 for the market appropriation of the city council had Monday morning voted to appropriate $12,500 for the initial payment in the purchase of a lot of which to erect the municipal market brought a storm of applause. Mrs. Richardson stated that this appropriation, which assured the building of a municipal market, was another step toward ending the alleged boycott movement inaugurated by the Retail Food Dealers' association against the White Provision company because the latter donated the meat used at a barbecue given by the market committee for the new auditorium. Mrs. Boykin also announced that, acting on the suggestion of Mrs. T. T. Stevens, the White Provision company had donated a number of lambs to the United Daughters of the Confederacy to be used at their barbecue for the old auditors which will be given Saturday, October 4. Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, chairman for the Lucile King Thomas auditorium fund, announced that Mrs. Irving S. Thomas, honorary president, had been appointed as chairman for the campaign which has been inaugurated to raise funds to carry on the expense of this building. Mrs. Thomas spoke on the necessity of the auditorium being completed as quickly as possible and urged the members to cooperate with her in the raising of funds for its completion. Mrs. Thomas also announced that Mrs. Katherine J. Pitts, who has been in charge of the entertainment department of the club, will now do special catering for parties of any kind, and in view of her particular ability along this line, Mrs. Thomas felt there would be a wide demand for her services.

Mrs. Charles Chalmers arranged a musical program of special merit and presented a number of promising artists. Misses Hazel and Mabel Whitney, talented Atlanta girls, sang a couple of songs in solo and duet, with Mrs. Martha Clark at the piano. Enrico Letici, director of music for the Howard theater, presented two of the musicians from his orchestra, who played selections on the cornet with piano accompaniment. Perry Bromer and Harry Meyer were the artists and their numbers, "Little Gray Home in the West," and "Rose of Piccadilly," were well received.

Miss Madeline Kelp, a musician of unusual ability, discussed the plans for a study class in musical education. Starting the first Tuesday of the month, Miss Kelp will give a series of twelve lectures on the evolution of music.

Talk by Dr. Lyon. Dr. J. Spruille Lyon, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in a talk to the club members, gave a tribute to the women of today as regards their intelligence and interest in national affairs. He pointed out the importance of the woman to the community and country. The subject of Dr. Lyon's talk was the enforcement of the war, and the conditions as they exist today with conditions existing after wars of other periods.

In discussing the prohibition question, Dr. Lyon stated that the law enforcement, Dr. Lyon stated that America was the cynosure of the eyes of the world today, and that a wonderful opportunity has presented itself to this nation, which is not being taken advantage of, to lead the world in spiritual uplift.

Mrs. Emma Garrett Boyd, president of the drama league, who has just returned from Europe, entertained her hearers with interesting bits of information gleaned on her travels in England, Belgium, Italy and compared the life of this university center today with that of several years ago.

Mrs. George W. O'Neal, Jr., chairman of journalism, announced that those desiring to enroll in the journalism class may do so now. Dr. W. F. Melton, of Emory university, will conduct a series of lectures on this subject, and practical talks by newspaper men and women will be given. Civic Art and War Memorials will be the topic for discussion at the meeting of the art committee Wednesday afternoon, when George Julian Johns, noted sculptor, will be present.

FUNERAL CONDUCTED FOR ROBERT WOOTEN

Beginning October 2

Unparalleled Comics

You know how the kiddies crawled out bright and early every Sunday morning to get the old four-page Comic Section of The Sunday Constitution. You know how they reveled in the antics of THE KATZIES, CHESTER GUMP and ELMER TUGGLE, and how you, yourself, were amused by the domestic tangles of ANDY and MIN GUMP and MR. AND MRS. and troubles of THE TUGGLES with ELMER.

Now the kiddies can have twice as much fun and you, too, will be doubly amused by the four new pages which WILL BE ADDED to the OLD ONES, beginning OCTOBER 2. Watch for the new ones:

'Smatter Pop, Hairbreadth Harry, Betty, and That Son-in-Law of Paw's

Brilliant Array of Artists

The best comics artists and master specialists of the newspaper world are represented in the comic pages and the magazine features which The Constitution has assembled in its big augmented issues, which start on October 2. You will realize what a big value you receive in THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION after you read the first of these big issues, on OCTOBER 2.

E. Phillips Oppenheim

The peer of all detective story writers, is one of the contributors in the new magazine. In the beginning of his series of stories, October 2, he introduces Peter Ruff, one of his greatest characters.

$1.50 Complete Novel

Each week The Constitution will print one complete novel, heretofore unpublished, which would cost you $1.50 in a book store later, and you get it for the regular price of

Can a Bank have "Personality"?

THE FULTON NATIONAL (the fastest growing bank in this section) does not care to be considered as a vast combination of steel vaults, marble, mahogany, wire cages, ledgers and adding machines.

It desires to be known as a big, broad minded, sympathetic, human organization.

Through its co-operative service, and its advertising appeal it endeavors to reflect the personality of its executives.

When you use the Fulton's banking service, you come in contact with red-blooded, kindly, considerate men and women.

Yes—we believe a bank can have personality.

G. C. WILKINS HURT ATTEMPTING DASH ACROSS STREET

Grover C. Wilkins, of 112 Forrest avenue, was badly bruised when struck by an automobile driven by J. T. Sewell, of 40 Park street, when Mr. Wilkins attempted to run across the street in front of the automobile, according to police.

Mr. Wilkins was taken to the Georgia Baptist hospital, where it was found that he was not seriously injured. Mr. Sewell reported the accident at police headquarters, but no charge was made against him. A number of eyewitnesses said that he was driving slowly at the time of the accident, and that the victim ran in front of the automobile.

Will Commemorate Dedication of Peace Monument in October

Plans for anniversary exercises in commemoration of the dedication of the peace monument at Piedmont park are complete, according to C. P. Hyrd, commandant of the Old Guard. The exercises will be held on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock October 3, at the monument. Addresses will be made by Mayor Key, Dr. Henry Alford Porter and Mrs. John A. Hyrd, president of the U. D. C. Following the addresses, wreaths will be given the Old Guard battalion of the National Guard. Marshal of the day will be Major Fonville McWhorter. The parade to the monument will commence at 3 o'clock in front of the Georgian Terrace hotel and proceed down Peachtree street to Fourteenth street and from thence to the monument. The order of march follows: Old Guard, military band, the Old Guard, the Old Guard battalion of the National Guard, and the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

do not have to waste time wondering where you can get it more.

A DANGEROUS MEASURE.

The proposal of the senate finance committee to saddle upon American merchants, who buy abroad, the necessity for paying import duties upon American valuations, assessed upon the arrival of the goods, is the most monstrous attempt at price-fixing ever attempted by any government.

While this feature of the plan is an alarming one, however, it is only secondary to the real injury that will ensue to American producers of raw materials that are largely sold abroad; to the disaster that will fall upon those lines of business that are compelled to buy in foreign markets and resell in their own trading zones, several months in advance of the actual clearance of the goods; and lastly to those ports of entry, as Atlanta, for instance, where expert appraisement commissions will not sit, and which will consequently be practically closed in consequence.

It is admitted that, should the proposed American valuation plan be a law through the Fordney tariff bill, there will be only a few ports, such as New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, maintained, as due to the technical features of the entire tariff bill, none but experts can qualify as merchandise appraisers if invoices are not to be used as a basis.

Under the Underwood bill, and under all tariff bills, with the exception of a brief period in 1849, merchandise imported has been assessed for duty, either ad valorem or specific, on the basis of the foreign cost prices figured in American money.

That is fair, simple, and enables an importer to know when he buys his merchandise for import just what it will cost him on his shelves. He can make his advance season sales accordingly.

The protests against the American plan, as now proposed, are pouring into Washington from all lines of business, and from every section. They are not coming from democrats any more than from republicans, as the issue is too keenly a business one to be lost in any kind of a political shuffle.

It is imperative that every commercial organization get actively behind this matter, otherwise all interior ports of entry may be closed, and many lines of business painfully injured.

THE JUDGE'S METHOD.

Judge Porterfield, presiding over the juvenile court of Kansas City, is evidently a judge with old home memories of heroic treatment for certain juvenile offenders.

A Kansas City dispatch tells how he recently stopped a session of his court, removed one of his law shoes and spanked four boys with it in true old home style.

The Indianapolis News featured the little story in bordered black type—as something unusual in this new day.

The four boys, the story says, were haled to court for truancy from school, and they told the judge that school was "out," for good, as far as they were concerned.

"The judge sent out for a suitable stick, but none could be found. He then used his shoe."

"What about school now?" he asked when he had replaced his shoe.

"The four agreed to return to school."

Probably the judge himself had once been an offender in that very line, and had not only been given a lesson in the slipper treatment, but knew what the imperative command meant—"Go to the barn, and wait for me!"

With the mother of the old days it was the slipper; with "dad," it meant the limber switch.

Mother laid on the slipper because "she loved them," "dad," because it was his bounden, Bible duty!

And while that sort of treatment has been greatly modified—if not entirely abandoned—there are judges and statesmen today who attribute their rise to eminence to the "lambskins" they received at the hands of "dad" or mother.

Their plain, straightforward testimony would probably be, "They never hit us a lick too much!"

The German mark has turned out to be as unlucky as a hoodoo cross mark.

The trouble in the making of domestic grape juice seems to be in that way it has of "rising to the occasion."

China is on the advance line now. She advances just as far as Japan will let her.

Still We Keep A-Going.

Sorrow keen and burning tears from the sad eyes flowing: Shadows from the coming years— Yet we keep a-going.

'Neath the deep wings of the night: Still we sleep and dream of might: Evermore a star's in sight— Still we keep a-going!

Hope is ever hovering high: Joy and peace bestowing: Storms make rainbows in life's sky— Still we keep a-going!

Never life is all unalloyed: Never we hear what God thinks best, Till his kind voice whispers "Rest," Still we keep a-going!

"For What We Receive." This is the notion of a little farmer who is thankful for small favors:

"Good Lord, in every time and place Give us meat enough for saying grace: But if no meat Thou art bestowing, Give bread enough to keep us going!"

A Thought for Today. (From The Arkansas Gazette.) This nation cannot fail. Our highwaymen will hold it up.

The Best Ever! One day it's Springtime, Then summer comes, and smiles, Then autumn paints a picture, And marks the golden miles: Then winter hushes the tune, 'Till freeze to that fine country soon!"

Home-Town Talk. "If we ever go to jail, we hope it will be in Beattie, Neb," says the Sabatha Herald. "That town has a swell jail, looking out on a beautiful park in the center of which is the city library."

Turn About. Here's the way C. T. Davis, of The Arkansas Gazette, sees it—

"While the hospitality of the South is traditional, and everything, and the South would like to see some other section entertain the boll weevil and the army worm For a season or so."

The Waycross Journal-Herald says: "There is but one make of automobile—your own. All others are hunk-o-tin, bunches-o-junk, two-wheeled atrocities, rumblecracks, and so on!"

A Goodbye Word. Don't like de new September ways, His wuz a blin' cup!

De high Judge give him thirty days, And he says de time is long!

Go long, September, we don't keer! An' don't come back ontell next year!

The Sabatha Herald's movie critic handed in this one—

"Plot starts out strong. Characterization is fine. The actors work up a logical situation. Looks like a good play. Then men begin falling over cliffs, jumping on top of moving trains, rescuing the fair lady in an airplane. Oh, hell!"

Word From Brer Williams. "I make no doubt of the value of 'nuff to know better, but nobody in it ever gets an 'aw' 'nuff to tell it how come an' why."

Note of Warning On Amended Tax Returns

Editor Constitution: A recent treasury decision issued by the commissioner of internal revenue at Washington is causing much apprehension and some confusion in the minds of many business men. This is treasury decision No. 3220, income tax, and is on the use of appreciated or inflated values in determining invested capital shown for tax purposes for 1917 and subsequent years.

The gist of the decision is that as the cost of income tax returns for these years, it has been disclosed that many taxpayers have used appreciated or inflated values for the determination of their invested capital.

Further, that all those who have used appreciated values in setting out the amount of their invested capital are now required to file with the collector of internal revenue for each of such years in which inflated values have been used. It is the opinion of those experienced in federal tax matters that it would be very unwise to file amended income and profits tax returns for any reason other than the correction of clerical errors made out in the original return. There is no reason for taxpayers to be alarmed and mistakenly hurried into making out amended tax returns unless actual errors have been discovered in making out the original returns.

It is assumed that all tax returns are made in good faith and the penalty clause referred to in this decision will only affect those taxpayers who knowingly have used other values than the actual values referred to in the act and regulations. These values are defined as being the cost of acquisition less depreciation.

The purpose of this article is to sound a note of warning to taxpayers not to make out amended returns unless for the correction of errors made in the original or uncorrected returns to the treasury department. The implication of an amended return is the correction of an error, hence, it would very probably tend to greater confusion to file amended returns unless the taxpayer is sure it is necessary.

Kicklifter's Spirit Was Not Abroad As Mr. Woodward Worked.

When Business Was Suspended For a Day.

A short while since a red fox was started up near the Chattahoochee river at a creek in the Chattahoochee valley. The fox was captured near the Air Line Railroad and the Turnpike Road, in the edge of the city. Some fifty rounds were fired at the fox, although one had kept in advance of the rest for about a mile.
